Jim Storm Leads a Powerful Ensemble Cast in the Must-See Indie Comedy of 2024

(Los Angeles, CA – October 18, 2024) – In a year when political headlines and election anxiety are dominating the news, Entertaining Pictures is excited to bring you the most refreshing and timely satirical film of the season. "Prisoner Trump: The Don of Cell Block B" is a sharp-witted, outrageously funny political satire set to hit streaming platforms by October 28th, 2024. As the perfect antidote to election overload, Prisoner Trump delivers biting political commentary wrapped in side-splitting humor, finally giving audiences what they've been waiting for: Donald Trump, behind bars.

Jim Storm

Director Joe Barber makes his narrative feature directorial debut in this irreverent comedy, co-produced by action/horror veteran Jarrett Furst (known for "Darkness of Man" and "Murder, Anyone"). The film stars Jim Storm (The Bold and the Beautiful, Capitol, One Life to Live) as a larger-than-life Donald Trump and Patrick M.J. Finerty (Sneaky Pete, Grown-ish) in a masterful turn as Rudy Giuliani, in a story that flips the prison genre on its head with political absurdity, prison hijinks, and ruthless power games.

In "Prisoner Trump", Trump and Giuliani find themselves imprisoned at Julio Deep State Penitentiary, where Trump quickly sets his sights on dominating the prison economy with his infamous business tactics—including absurd inventions like “Trump Bucks” and “Ivana Cakes.” As Trump battles the influential inmate leader Tyler London for control of the prison, egos clash, chaos erupts, and hilarity ensues. The film offers a scathing, laugh-out-loud commentary on power, corruption, and wealth-driven politics in a world where even prison can't contain Trump's ambition.

Joe Barber

"I had to make this film," says director Joe Barber, who first purchased the domain prisonertrump.com in 2017. "People have been fantasizing about seeing Donald Trump face real consequences for years. This film delivers that, but with a huge dose of comedy and satire."

With Prisoner Trump, audiences can expect a unique blend of over-the-top prison drama, dark humor, and timely political satire that sets it apart from other political comedies. The movie pokes fun at the absurdities of wealth, influence, and the political system while giving fans of political satire exactly what they've been dreaming of—Trump facing the karma he deserves.

Shot entirely in Los Angeles, Prisoner Trump: The Don of Cell Block B is poised to be one of the most talked-about films of 2024, delivering a hilarious and exaggerated take on Donald Trump and the political systems around him just ahead of Election Day.

"Prisoner Trump: The Don of Cell Block B" is available now, exclusively at <https://prisonertrump.com>. It will be available on streaming platforms by October 28, 2024.

Don't miss this politically charged comedy that's sure to leave audiences talking!
